Business Bridging Program

Many high school students aspire to enroll in an international bachelor's program but lack the necessary background to do so. The Business Bridging Program (BBP) bridges the gap for aspiring candidates. It provides them with the necessary knowledge and English base to succeed in EU's three-year bachelor's programs.

The BBP arms students with basic knowledge on the most important areas of business, covering essential theories in economics and management in addition to a broad look at the modern global business realm. Students take part in group projects, class discussions and presentations with the aim of developing their teamwork skills.

How the Program Works

The Business Bridging Program is a one-semester (13-week) course. Students will strengthen their academic, communication and business English skills while studying management and economic concepts. Enrollment takes place in October, February and June and dates have been coordinated with the academic calendar so that students may begin their bachelor studies at EU immediately after completing the BBP.
